

NOMINATION FORM: Ron Foxcroft Fair Play Award - 2020

Beginning as a basketball referee at McMaster University, Ron Foxcroft went on to an impressive career as the NCAA's only Canadian basketball referee and officiated international basketball games in more than 30 countries, including the gold medal basketball game in the 1976 Montreal Olympics. He was the only Canadian appointee to the National Association of Sports Officials board in the USA. Ron is known as much for his affection for sport and his entrepreneurial success as he is for his own athletic achievements and his desire to help youth. This award is presented to the nominee that best exemplifies the below criteria.

Criteria:

- Current official (i.e. referee, umpire, judge etc.) within the City of Hamilton
- Goes above and beyond to represent the principles of fair play
- Has played a key role in the development of officiating through the mentorship of officials within their sport
- Shows a personal commitment to ongoing development and training and demonstrates leadership qualities on and off the playing surface
