Relationship between Converted Dwellings, ADUs and ADU - Detached

Converted Dwelling: a dwelling altered to contain a greater number of dwelling units

- Existing dwelling converted to contain a total of three dwelling units (two ADUs)
- Existing dwelling converted to contain a total of four dwelling units (three ADUs)

Additional Dwelling Unit (ADU): a separate and self-contained dwelling unit that is accessory to and located within the principal dwelling

- Existing dwelling converted to contain one Additional Dwelling Unit for a total of two dwelling units
- New dwelling containing one Additional Dwelling Unit for a total of two dwelling units

Aditional Dwelling Unit - Detached: a separate and self-contained detached dwelling unit that is accessory to and located on the same lot as the principal dwelling

One Additional Dwelling Unit - Detached

Single detached, Semi-detached, or Street Townhouse Dwelling